

BLOODBIRD

The Navy SEAL Trident is plunged into each new graduate's chest upon completion of their training. The Bloodbird derives its name from the traditional pinning ceremony. It offers superior stability in the mid-foot and works well for all workouts from dynamic cross-training activities to heavy lifting.

